

JOURNAL NEWS 8/17/14

IN BRIEF

Entrepreneurs share experiences

ELMSFORD — Community Capital New York will present a Wisdom from Main Street forum at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Greenburgh Public Library, 300 Tarrytown Road, Elmsford. RSVP to Holly Perlowitz, 914-747-8020, ext. 14, hperlowitz@communitycapitalny.org

Small business seminar scheduled

YONKERS — The Yonkers Public Library will host a free small business seminar at 9:30 a.m. Monday at its Riverfront branch, 1 Larkin Center. The Bridge to Success seminar will address how small business owners can secure customers, contracts and capital. RSVP at 914-384-1895 or email Abridgetoa bridge@gmail.com.

TrackerPro opens office in Pearl River

PEARL RIVER — Title Insurance Software Co., TrackerPro, LLC, has opened an office in Pearl River. TrackerPro is an integrated title insurance software system that provides automation between title insurance companies and vendors for municipal search and other title insurance related services.

Communications scholarship offered

HARTSDALE — Cut-It-Out Communications in Hartsdale offers a $1,000 scholarship and internship program with an application deadline of Dec. 31 for the summer of 2015. The scholarship is for communications majors with a 3.0 grade-point average. Details are posted at www.cioediting.com/public-relations-scholarship.asp.